

Do you have a print provider or a print partner?

FIND OUT HOW STAPLES OUTPERFORMS OTHER PROVIDERS WITH ATTENTION TO DETAIL — AND TO YOUR BUSINESS.

Printed materials are the face of your brand. Are you working with a print provider that understands your business goals and is committed to working creatively to meet your needs? Staples is a true print partner, working side by side to deliver your perfect calling card every time.

To evaluate whether your current print provider is a true partner for your business — and how it stacks up to the print experts at Staples — review the checklist below.

	Your Current Provider	Staples
Has a firm understanding of your brand and its value	\circ	\checkmark
Employs premedia specialists who review your jobs prior to execution	\bigcirc	\checkmark
Comes to you with suggestions as well as new and innovative ideas	\circ	\checkmark
Values and is enthusiastic about being a partner to your company	\bigcirc	\checkmark
Is passionate about perfection	\circ	\triangleleft
Assigns a dedicated account representative as your go-to from start to finish	\bigcirc	\checkmark
Provides 24/7 online proofing	\circ	\triangleleft
Provides documents how you need them with print to store or delivery options	\bigcirc	\checkmark
Offers flexible kitting and fulfillment services	\circ	\triangleleft
Uses state-of-the-art digital and offset technology	\circ	\checkmark

It's time to start looking for a true print partner. With Staples, you'll get better service while staying within budget.

Your current print provider has some good offerings, but you could get even more by switching to Staples.

Even if your current print provider has a lot to offer, you may be missing out on helpful services only offered by Staples.

10

For more information, visit StaplesAdvantage.com/Print