"It's really a pain to set up a new vendor. It adds a lot of time to the process. And if someone else could search for me, that saves me plenty of time."

—Temple M., Director of Purchasing,
Medical Center, AR

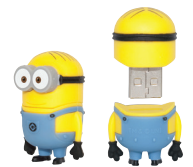

Examples of what we have sourced:

A financial services company wanted a red golf cart for charity events.

A hospital needed fire-resistant waste bins delivered quickly to all of its clinics.

A university requested Minion flash drives for a promotional event.
