Workplace Studio

Committed to collaboration.

When it's time to create your ideal workplace, the first step in having a successful project is choosing the right team.

From interior designers, architects and logistics experts to professional project managers and installation specialists, we collaborate with and employ hundreds of design professionals throughout North America. Together, we help you imagine and install custom workspaces that will not only be beautiful, but will be the most productive they can be.

SUCCESS STORY: True partnership.

A southwestern technology firm was retrofitting a community center for its new headquarters. Working closely with the client, architects and contractors, we helped them work within the aging structure's unique challenges, creating an environment that strengthened its brand and fostered efficient workflow.

SUCCESS STORY: Smart solutions – fast.

When an independent school district received funding for four new schools set to open in under six months, our team sprung into action delivering design services, floor plans and made-to-order furniture for every room. When the first day of school arrived, all four schools were ready, on time and on budget.

Far beyond furniture and fixtures.

Creating a productive, welcoming atmosphere for your clients and employees means more than bringing in tables, chairs and lamps. It means setting new trends in workplace design that improve workflow, encourage collaboration and support your sustainability initiatives.

From the start, our workplace strategy team works with you to get to the bottom of how you work — and how you want to work.

SUCCESS STORY: A customized approach.

At a national chain of assisted living facilities each room had to be perfect, from clinical rooms and resident quarters to dining rooms and recreation facilities. By first gaining a deep understanding of how patients and employees live and work, our team created highly functional – and perfectly comfortable – environments that were built to last.
